REGULAR COMMUNICATION
FIRST MEETING OF EACH MONTH

To the Worshipful Master
Officers and Members
Of Fraternity Lodge No. 268 F. and A. M.

On behalf of the Officers and members of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 544, I wish to congratulate you and the Brothers upon completing 100 years of distinguished service to Masonry.

It is our sincere hope that you will have a successful centennial year during 1970 and continued success throughout another 100 years or more.

Our association has brought about many lasting friendships and we look forward to being with you as you continue on.

Fraternally,
Manso Kan
Manso Kan
Worshipful Master 1969

It is a privilege, a pleasure and a great sense of pride that I congratulate Fraternity Lodge #268 F. and A. M. on its 100th Anniversary. To each of the Officers and its members I extend the most fraternal greetings.

I am particularly appreciative since I was elected and permitted to be the Worshipful Master of my own Lodge during the year of your Anniversary, being installed at the same ceremony with your Worshipful Master Hilbert Kosfoed.

May God guide you and your members to boundless heights, and may your light so shine, that it will light the way for your fellow men.

Fraternally and sincerely,
George Stauch

Golden Rule Lodge No. 159, F. & A. M.

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren
Fraternity Lodge No. 268 F. & A. M.

Harry Kay French
Secretary

My congratulations to you on being able to celebrate your centennial year. But any institution which can celebrate its centennial needs no congratulations because it already has industrious, dedicated, faithful people as its members and worthiness of the institution itself. Any institution which has all these certainly needs no more to explain its longevity.

It has been my good fortune to be associated with and work with the brothers of Fraternity Lodge for several years. I can testify from personal experience to the pleasure it has been. With particular pleasure I reflect upon the associations and brotherhood during my year as Master of Golden Rule Lodge No. 159. I know from discussions that the Fraternity brothers have been a fine group to work with down through the years.

With such a tradition behind it, Fraternity Lodge will have a fine second hundred years. Again, congratulations Brothers and continued best wishes. May you continue in your fine tradition of brotherhood for hundreds of years to come.

Most sincerely,
H. B. French

Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren
Fraternity Lodge No. 268 F. & A. M.

Golden Rule Lodge No. 159 sends you greetings and best wishes on the occasion of your centennial celebration.

It will be a pleasure to continue on into the second century the spirit of fellowship and brotherly love which has characterized our past endeavors.

As I write this letter, the memory of our last installation is fresh in my mind, and the cooperation which existed was not such as you would expect between two lodges, but rather as if they had been one. The words that come to mind and seem to describe this best are: "One sacred band or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention should ever exist but that noble contention or rather emulation of who best can work or best agree". That, my brothers, expresses better than any words I might phrase, the feelings of the brethren and me concerning our two lodges.

Golden Rule Lodge feels honored by our one hundred years of association and cooperation and looks forward to all the good that lies ahead for Fraternity Lodge. May your Lodge exist, my brothers, until time shall be no more.

Fraternally yours

EDWARD O. JOHNSON, P.M.
SECRETARY
R.R. 1, 6865 CENTER ROAD
ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN 48106
TELEPHONE 462-1865

Dear Brethren:

It is a great honor and privilege for me to greet my fellow members and friends of Fraternity Lodge in recognition of one hundred years of Masonic activities. In reviewing some of the records and accomplishments of Fraternity Lodge, one may find brothers from all walks of life united in an effort of spreading the cement of brotherly love and affection, truly making us all as one family of friends and brothers.

I would like at this time to thank all of the brethren who, in their own way, have participated and contributed to the efforts of making this Centennial Booklet available to all the members of Fraternity Lodge.

This Centennial year marks a milestone for Fraternity Lodge in Masonic teachings. Thus we should renew our efforts for the continuation of tradition and teachings of Freemasonry to future generations where the brotherhood of man may live in peace and harmony.

Fraternally yours

Brethren:

It has been a pleasure and honor to have been Worshipful Master of Fraternity Lodge No. 262 during part of the Centennial year. It has been a wonderful experience working with the Centennial Committee while going through the records of the history of the Lodge and reading of the events that transpired during the past one hundred years.

Fraternity Lodge has furnished a lasting experience for a great many Masons who received their start in Masonry within its Lodge room. They are now scattered to the far corners of the earth.

I am glad that I have had a small part in contributing to so great and ancient a craft as Free Masonry which has spread throughout the world during more than six hundred years of recorded Masonic history, and I know that with the Lord as our guide, Fraternity Lodge will grow and advance as it has in the past one hundred years.

I would like to thank all the Brethren who have worked so diligently to make our Centennial celebration a success and especially all who have contributed so generously to the Centennial Fund. I am sure that all of you will be proud that you have contributed something to the success of our Centennial.

Fraternally,

Dear Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Fraternity Lodge #262

Greetings:

It is our pleasure to extend to the officers and brethren of Fraternity Lodge #262 our congratulations upon the successful completion of One Hundred Years of Masonry in Ann Arbor.

It is the sincere hope of your Grand Master, the Officers of the Grand Lodge, and the Constituent Brethren of the Jurisdiction of Michigan, that the next 100 years will be as successful and productive as the past century has been.

We extend to you our greetings and best wishes for the continuing success of Free Masonry in Ann Arbor.

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN

Founding of the Lodge

In February, 1869, thirteen Master Masons petitioned the Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in Michigan for permission to form a new Masonic lodge in Ann Arbor to be known as "Fraternity Lodge".

The petitioners were all former members and officers of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85, which was then in the process of dissolution. They were Zina P. King, lawyer and real estate broker, Senior Warden of No. 85; William D. Harriman, soon to be Mayor of Ann Arbor and Probate Judge; Elias J. Johnson, one-time Treasurer and then Secretary of No. 85; Robert M. Price, who had served as Senior Warden; Willard B. Smith, also later Mayor of Ann Arbor; John N. Gott, attorney, seven times Worshipful Master of No. 85 and thrice Worshipful Master of Oriental Lodge No. 15, the predecessor of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85; Erastus Root, shoe store proprietor, first Senior Warden and once Worshipful Master of No. 85, as well as a former member of Oriental Lodge No. 15; John G. Johnson; M. V. K. Jones; Frederick Sorg, paint dealer and former Junior Deacon; Edward D. Kinne, who became Circuit Judge and Ann Arbor Mayor; George Taylor, Past Grand Chaplain; and Justus Carpenter, former Senior Warden. Nine of these men were Knights Templar and two, King and Harriman, became Eminent Commander, all respected Masons indeed.

On March 22, 1869, M. W. Grand Master Abraham T. Metcalf granted the petition by issuing a Dispensation whereby he appointed Zina P. King, the first Worshipful Master, William D. Harriman, Senior Warden, and Elias J. Johnson, Junior Warden, to organize Fraternity Lodge No 262, F. & A. M., keep a transcript of their proceedings, and present the transcript together with a copy of their by-laws to the Grand Lodge of Michigan at its next regular communication.

In accordance with this authority the new lodge met for its first communication nine days later on March 31, 1869 in Masonic Hall at 215-217 South Main Street, Ann Arbor. This hall was at that time under lease to Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K. T. and was also occupied by Golden Rule Lodge No. 159, F. & A. M.

At this first communication the Worshipful Master read the Dispensation from the Grand Master and then opened his lodge in the Third Degree for the dispatch of business. The chairs were occupied by Zina P. King, W.M., John P. Little, S. W. pro tem, Elias J. Johnson, J.W., Robert M Price, Secretary, Willard B. Smith, Treasurer, Aaron Long, S.D. pro tem., Frederick Long, J.D. pro tem, and Stanley L. Stevens, Tyler. Secretary Price opened his book of Minutes, which has been maintained continuously for one hundred years and is the official history from which most of the material for this Centennial Booklet has been obtained.

The business conducted at the first communication consisted of receiving fifteen petitions, five for membership by transfer or demit and ten for initiation. These were referred to committees. Then the By-Laws of the Lodge were read and adopted.

At the next communication on May 5, 1869, the first degree was conferred, the Entered Apprentice degree on Mr. H. B. Alexandre. Also initiated at this time were Sam R. Gregory, Andrew Winslow, R. A. Williams, Ira Cushman, and J. A. Blanchard. From then until the end of the year twenty-six more communications were held under dispensation, six more candidates were initiated, twelve passed, and twelve raised. The Lodge paid $50 as the cost of the Dispensation and agreed to pay the Commandery $87.50 a year rent on the Hall. At the end of the year a report of the year's work was prepared for the Grand Lodge pursuant to the Grand Master's instructions. This report, dated December 27, 1869, is still in the file of the Grand Secretary in Grand Rapids and lists forty-five members.

At its meeting in Detroit on January 12-14, 1870, the Grand Lodge of Michigan received and approved Fraternity Lodge's report and on January 13, 1870 issued the Charter. Thereupon, the Worshipful Master called a special communication for February 15, 1870 for the purpose of electing officers. At this meeting Stephen Webster, Eminent Commander of Ann Arbor Commandery, read the new Charter to the lodge, the election was held, and immediately M. W. Grand Master Abraham T. Metcalf, who was in attendance, installed the new officers. These first elected officers were as follows: Sibley G. Taylor, W. M., Charles A. Horn, S.W., Justus Carpenter, J.W., Willard B. Smith, Treasurer, Robert M. Price, Secretary, Aaron Long, S. D. and James M. Clark, J. D. Appointed as Stewards were Frank Weil and John F. Miller and as Tyler, John P. Little.

The very next day on February 16, Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K.T. invited the new officers and brethren of Fraternity Lodge to a Ball and Banquet on Washington's Birthday, which Fraternity Lodge promptly accepted. Thus Fraternity Lodge, No. 262, F. & A. M., as we know it today was officially founded in due form and started on its way both ritualistically and socially towards the Centennial Year we are now celebrating

The Peninsular Courier and Family Visitant, the local paper, for Friday, February 25, 1870 carried this account of the Ball and Banquet: "Grand Affair. The ball and banquet of the Knights Templar that came off at Masonic House on Tuesday evening was a splendid affair. The party was a very large one, comprising the fashion and elite of the city. The supper, music, etc., were all that money and influence could make them. And the company was all that fashion, beauty, and intelligence could make it. The hours were rationally and joyfully spent, and all left with the proud satisfaction that the promotion of harmony, good will, and a desire to increase the sum of human happiness had been the aim of all present. The supper was got up by Messrs. Hall and Robison and pronounced by all an excellent arrangement. The turkeys, especially prepared by A. R. Hall, baker, were superb. Mr. Blanchard, head clerk at the establishment of Hall and Robison, is entitled to the thanks of the company present for much of the pleasure derived from the entertainment."

At this time Ann Arbor Commandery itself was a relatively new organization, having been formed only five years earlier in 1865.

GRAND LODGE FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS — OF THE — STATE OF MICHIGAN. ★

To all whom these Presents may concern, Greeting:

Whereas, A Petition has been presented to me, by sundry Brethren residing within this jurisdiction, to wit:

Yma Phing W D Harriman E J Johnson Robert Rice W B Smith
Erastus Root M R Jones J H Johnson John Root J. Stora
Edmund George Taylor and Justus Carpenter

Praying, on account of the convenience of their respective dwellings, and for other good reasons, for a DISPENSATION to empower them to assemble as a Local Lodge, to discharge the duties of Masonry in the several degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason, in a regular and constitutional manner, according to the ancient form of the fraternity, and the constitution and regulations of this Grand Lodge, and promising a strict conformity to all constitutional Laws, rules and regulations of the same.

And Whereas, The said petitioners have been recommended to me as Master Mason, in good standing by the Worshipful Master, Warden and Brethren, of Volstead Rule Lodge, No 159, under our jurisdiction,

Therefore, I, H. F. Hutchins, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Michigan, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby grant this my DISPENSATION, authorizing and empowering our trusty and well beloved brethren aforesaid, to form and open a NEW LODGE, in the City of New Westminster in the County of Washington State of Michigan, to be called Maternity Lodge, and therein to admit and make Entered Apprentices, Fellow Crafts, and Master Masons, in accordance with the ancient usages and customs of the Fraternity, obeying in all things the constitution, laws and edicts of this Grand Lodge, and not otherwise.

And I do hereby appoint our worthy brother Yma Phing to be the first Master, brother William Verreux for the first Senior Warden, and brother Alvin Johnson to be the first Junior Warden, of said new lodge.

And it shall be their duty, and they are hereby required to return this Dispensation, with a correct transcript of all proceedings had under the authority of the same, together with an attested copy of their by-laws, to our Grand Lodge, at its next annual communication, for examination, and such further action as shall then be deemed wise and proper.

This Dispensation to continue in full force till the annual communication aforesaid, unless sooner revoked by me.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and affixed the Seal of the Grand Lodge, at Detroit, this twentieth day of March A. D. 1899, Ch. L. 5809.

DISPENSATION of the LODGE

Historical Background: Masonry in Ann Arbor

The occasion for the founding of a new Masonic Lodge in Ann Arbor in 1869 arose from the somewhat turbulent conditions among the craft at that time and for some period prior. One would suppose that a history of Masonry would be singularly uneventful and colorless inasmuch as peace and tranquility are the strength and support of all lodges but more especially of ours. Such has not been the history of Masonry in Ann Arbor.

The story presented by Harrison H. Caswell and William C. Hollands in their engrossing series of articles appearing in the Ann Arbor Masonic News in various issues from 1946 to 1949 entitled "The History of Masonry in Ann Arbor" reads almost like an action novel. Add to this A. W. Lipphart's account of "The Morgan Affair" in the Ann Arbor Masonic News, February-May, 1950, and you will see that the life of Masonry in Michigan as well as in the United States has been anything but serene.

There is not room here to retell the whole story, but it is appropriate that we review briefly the events leading up to 1869 in order that we may see the birth of Fraternity Lodge in its proper setting. Indeed, after looking at the background from which Fraternity Lodge grew, we shall realize that the hundred-year prosperity of this Lodge and its long-standing friendly relations with the other Masonic bodies in the city are distinct accomplishments to be proud of.

One thing to keep in mind is that the founding of Fraternity Lodge in 1869 and the founding of the village of Ann Arbor by Allen and Rumsey in 1824 both occurred within the span of one lifetime, a period of just forty-five years in fact. Martin Davis, who had been Worshipful Master of Western Star Lodge No. 6 that had met in John Allen's Tavern, survived until 1872, three years after the founding of Fraternity Lodge, though it does not appear that he was ever a member of this lodge. But Erastus Root, who was a member of Fraternity Lodge and one of its petitioners, was a member of Western Star Lodge and later a charter member of both Oriental Lodge No. 15 and Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85, successors to Western Star and forerunners to Fraternity. John N. Gott, also one of Fraternity Lodge's petitioners, had even been a law partner of John Allen before Allen went West in the Gold Rush. Thus it appears that our story is not so much that of a succession of lodges being formed and passing out of existence as it is the account of one body of brother Masons working together, yet dissenting from one another on various topics through the years.

In February, 1824, John Allen of Virginia and Elisha W. Rumsey of New York came in a one-horse sleigh from Detroit to the wilderness area now Ann Arbor with the intention of establishing a town and selling land at a profit. John Allen set up a tent and later built a log block house at a spot very near the present northwest corner of Huron and Main Streets on the 480-acre tract of Section 29 that he bought from the government at $1.25 an acre. Elisha Rumsey built his house near Allen Creek at what is now the southwest corner of Huron and First Streets.

To quote from Russell E. Bidlack's little essay entitled "John Allen and the Founding of Ann Arbor" (Michigan Historical Collections, Bulletin No. 12): "In laying out their town, Allen and Rumsey designated the east-west (sic) dividing line between their land as Huron Street, with Allen's tract lying on the north side and Rumsey's on the south. As shown on the village plat dated May 25, 1824, three streets on Allen's side running parallel to Huron were named Ann, Catherine, and North, while the three on Rumsey's side were called Washington, Liberty, and William. Five streets running north and south were designated on the plat by ordinal numbers, except that Third Street was also called Main. Allen set aside a square block on his side of Huron, between Main and Fourth Streets, as a public square for the court house, while Rumsey donated one-half of a square block on Liberty between Fourth and Fifth Streets, as a public square for the jail." Curiously enough the jail site set apart by Rumsey became years later the present site of our Masonic Temple.

Rumsey and his wife Mary Ann took in travellers and their place near Allen Creek came to be known as the Washtenaw Coffee House. Allen's house, which he sold the next year to his brother James and which was subsequently enlarged, was operated as Allen's Tavern, a place that became famous as "Bloody Corners" on account of its bright red paint job.

It was at Allen's Tavern that local and transient Masons met and where three years later in 1827 the first Masonic lodge in Ann Arbor was formed by Martin Davis, Henry Rumsey (Elisha's brother), John Gorman and others. Western Star Lodge No. 6, as it was called, received its Dispensation on January 16, 1827 from the Grand Lodge of Michigan, which itself had just been organized the preceding June by five lodges then operating under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of New York—Zion No. 3, Detroit No. 137, Monroe No. 375, Oakland No. 343, and Menominee No. 374. On Tuesday, January 30 the Grand Lodge of Michigan in extraordinary session met in Ann Arbor at Allen's Tavern to consecrate the new lodge and install its officers. This is recorded in the Transactions of the Grand Lodge. Afterwards a festive ball was held which was described by one of the ladies present in a letter to a friend back East. A most distinguished group of men attended, men whose names today are legend—General Lewis Cass, Governor of Michigan Territory and Grand Master of Masons in Michigan, Judge Witherell, General Larned, General John Schwartz, operator of the "Emily," the largest schooner on the Detroit River, Colonel Pray, and Judge Samuel Dexter. Some of these men came out from Detroit on horseback bringing their wines and brandies with them.

In spite of this auspicious beginning however, Western Star Lodge No. 6 was doomed to have a short life because at the very moment the country was in turmoil over the infamous "Morgan Incident". When anti-Masonry struck Michigan Territory a few months later, all Free-Masonry in Michigan fell apart. The Grand Lodge suspended Masonic work in the Territory in 1829 and itself passed out of existence, not to be re-established until 1844.

The "Morgan Incident" was a virulent anti-Masonic fever that infected the entire country between 1826 and 1840. It arose out of the alleged abduction from Canandaigua, N. Y., confinement in the Niagara county jail, and subsequent murder by Masons of one William Morgan in September, 1826. Morgan, a resident at that time of Batavia, N. Y., had become disgruntled over a personal slight by certain Masons, and he undertook to get revenge by threatening to publish the secrets of Freemasonry broadside with the help of several persons including a newspaper man named David Miller, the New York politician and publisher from Rochester, Thurlow Weed, and others who seemed to be willing to strike out at what they conceived to be the evils of Freemasonry.

It is hard for us today to understand how people in large numbers could have anti-Masonic feelings and engage in heated and widespread controversy. Within two years from September, 1826, when the alleged atrocity was supposed to have taken place, the anti-Masonry movement grew politically and swept many state offices in New York and elected a governor in Pennsylvania. As Masonic historians we must say that there were two sides to the story. The Masons maintained that Morgan was not murdered by them but escaped from jail and disappeared and that the body which was found was not Morgan's. With all the charges and countercharges, the movement was significantly more political than truly anti-Masonic. In the 1832 Presidential election the Anti-Masonry Party with William Wirt of Maryland (himself a former Mason) for President and Amos Ellmaker of Pennsylvania for Vice-President made a clean sweep of Vermont, and a number of national figures aligned themselves with the ticket including John Quincy Adams, Millard Fillmore, Henry Ward Dana, and William Seward.

Right here in Washtenaw County, Michigan, no less than Judge Samuel Dexter and John Allen, who in 1827 helped to form Western Star Lodge No. 6 as just and upright Masons, turned against the Craft and became their bitter enemies. Judge Dexter bought out the Western Emigrant, the first local newspaper, and used it to publish anti-Masonic propaganda. The Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan has several issues of this paper that carry the Anti-Masonry material and they accord a startling revelation of how people felt and thought in those days, not really so long ago.

Judge Dexter ran for Congress in 1831 on the Anti-Masonry ticket and carried Washtenaw County, though he was eventually defeated by Austin E. Wing on the Democratic-Masonic ticket that carried the Territory. Of course, with prominent men like Dexter and Allen turning against Masonry, Western Star Lodge quickly disintegrated; its charter and records were lost; it was never revived, though some faithful members of the Craft did come forward later and help to found a new lodge under a new name.

It was not until 1841 that the climate was favorable for a revival of Masonry in Michigan. At that time an attempt was made to revive the first Grand Lodge of Michigan, and Martin Davis of Ann Arbor, Worshipful Master of defunct Western Star Lodge No. 6, was an active participant. But that attempt was abortive for reasons we need not go into here. Eventually in 1844 (September 17), the Grand Lodge of Michigan as we know it today was re-organized under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of New York. Then thought was given to reviving the Blue Lodges that had been active prior to the suspension of work. As already mentioned, Western Star Lodge was not one of these. Nevertheless a group of Ann Arbor Masons petitioned for a new lodge and on January 13, 1847, Oriental Lodge No. 15 was given its charter at the same time that Phoenix Lodge No. 13 in Ypsilanti was also chartered.

Oriental Lodge No. 15 worked for about ten years, from January, 1847, until August, 1856, and it is significant to us that at least seven of its active members became members of Fraternity Lodge No. 262—Erastus Root, John N. Gott, John J. Downer, Harlowe H. Howe, George Sutton, Jonathan Sprague, and T. A. Haviland. Oriental Lodge is also interesting to us today because its name clung to the building at 109 North Main Street where it occupied the third floor. A tavern on the first floor came to be known as "The Orient" after Oriental Lodge and is familiar to University of Michigan alumni the world over as they sing: "I want to go back to Michigan, to dear Ann Arbor town, back to Joe's and The Orient, back to some of the money we spent."

The short life of Oriental Lodge was rather hectic. Founded in 1847, it was soon struck with Gold Rush fever in 1849 and apparently lost quite a few of its members who took off for the West. Furthermore there was dissension among the brethren, a kind of generation gap between the old settlers and the new immigrants who kept flocking into Washtenaw County from the East as well as from the Old World. Things went from bad to worse. By 1856 some of the brothers got together and moved that the lodge settle up its affairs and turn the charter, money, and property over to the Grand Lodge. The last communication was held on August 13, 1856 after many of the most prominent members had asked for and been granted demits. The charter was formally revoked by the Grand Lodge at its meeting in 1858.

While one group of brothers was busy disbanding Oriental Lodge No. 15, another group of eighteen brothers, who had been granted demits, petitioned the Grand Lodge for permission to form a new lodge under the name of Ann Arbor Lodge. Dispensation was given on March 3, 1856 and a charter was issued on June 16, 1857 creating Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85. The new lodge took over the lease and furniture of Oriental Lodge and thereafter carried on Masonic work at the "Orient" for the next thirteen years until the "Lost Charter Incident" occurred that gave rise to Fraternity Lodge No. 262 in the Spring of 1869.

Yet even these thirteen years of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 were not tranquil. Six years before, in January 1850, Washtenaw Chapter No. 6, R.A.M. had been chartered and occupied the same premises with the Blue Lodge. As time went by there seems to have developed an antagonism between those who wished to carry on the work of Capitular and Chivalric York Rite Masonry and those who preferred to confine themselves to the Symbolic degrees. By 1864 twelve Masons, most of whom were members of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85, under the leadership of Charles H. Richmond petitioned the Grand Master for another lodge in Ann Arbor to be called "Golden Rule". Golden Rule Lodge No. 159 received its charter on January 13, 1865 and Charles H. Richmond became its first Worshipful Master. Three months later on April 13, 1865, Charles H. Richmond was named Eminent Commander of Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K. T. when it was chartered.

Now with two Blue Lodges, Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 and Golden Rule Lodge No. 159, and with Washtenaw Chapter No. 6, R. A. M. and Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K. T. all occupying the same modest quarters over the "Orient", conditions rapidly became overcrowded. It is not surprising that by the Fall of 1868 the incident arose out of which Fraternity Lodge No. 262 was born.

The Lost Charter Incident

In 1868 Charles Fantle and John Spoor began construction of a new commercial building at 215-217 South Main Street. It was to be a two-story structure and some members of the Masonic bodies saw an opportunity to acquire a new and more commodious lodge hall. They contacted Fantle and Spoor more or less on their own and made arrangements with them to add a third floor and rent it out on a long-term lease as a Masonic Hall. When it was nearing completion, they got around to inviting Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 to move with them into the new building. This was not a tactful maneuver to say the least. Many brothers thought that if the Commandery and Golden Rule Lodge moved out of the old quarters, the problem of overcrowding would be solved. The Chapter had already taken up temporary space in the Odd Fellows Hall. Of course, Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 controlled the lease and the furnishings of the hall over the "Orient", having acquired them from Oriental Lodge No. 15; and feeling at home there after some twenty years, many brothers were reluctant to leave.

From this point on the so-called Lost Charter Incident arose. Quoting from the Minutes of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 for January 27, 1869 on file with the Grand Secretary: "A Committee from the Ann Arbor Commandery were present and presented an invitation to Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 to join the Commandery in occupying the new hall now being fitted up in the city. The invitation was received and ordered placed on file. A motion to accept the invitation was then made and supported. After much discussion a vote was taken which stood twenty-seven (27) for and fourteen (14) against. A motion was then made to reconsider this motion which was lost. A resolution offered by Z. P. King was supported and read as follows: RESOLVED: That a committee of three composed of Blue Lodge members only be appointed to settle with Bro. N. P. Parsons and to meet the committees from the other Lodges with full power to apprise and sell said furniture of the Lodge and furnish the new Hall and not to sell said furniture unless this Lodge can procure a legal lease at a rental of not more than one-fourth ( $1/4$ ) of three hundred and fifty dollars ($350.00) per year for ten (10) years with the privilege of twenty (20) years. The resolution was carried and the W. M. appointed as such committee Bro. M. V. K. Jones, Charles Boylan, and E. D. Kinne."

"It was discovered," say Caswell and Hollands, "that there was no charter present, it having been removed from the frame, and a point of order was called that the matter before the lodge could not be legally considered. The most diligent search failed to find any trace of the missing charter, nor could the responsibility for its removal be placed on anyone. The discord that followed was so great that the matter was reported to the Grand Master who initiated an investigation of the affairs of the lodge immediately. Failing in his effort to unravel the tangle, the Grand Master took over the property of the Lodge and gave it in charge of Bro. George H. Rhodes, a member of Golden Rule Lodge, who afterwards turned it over to the other bodies."

William C. Hollands later said that Elias J. Johnson had told him that at the second time the subject of moving was considered, the charter was brought before the Lodge not in its frame but pinned to the backboard. The indignation of the members was so great that the guilty party or parties feared that if an explanation were given, it would result in the expulsion of some very prominent members. As a matter of fact, the secret of the lost charter has never been brought to light. Grand Master Metcalf gave dispensation to several brothers to hold three more communications of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 for the purpose of winding up its affairs, he revoked the charter, and related the incident to the Grand Lodge in his address before it in 1870.

The Minutes for February 24, 1869 record some of the events at these meetings: "A resolution was offered by Geo. W. Cropsey which was seconded and ordered placed on file. Which read as follows: RESOLVED: That Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85, F. & A. M. now proceed to take the necessary steps to surrender to the Grand Lodge its Charter with all of its powers therein vested, which motion prevailed." "A Committee was appointed consisting of J. N. Gott (ex-officio), N. Pierce, A. Boylan, Chas. Boylan, Thomas Taylor, to serch (sic) for the missing charter." "A petition was presented signed by Brothers Z. P. King, W. D. Harriman, E. J. Johnson, and five others asking the consent of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 to form a new lodge in the City of Ann Arbor to be known as Fraternity Lodge No. .... A motion was made and seconded to grant the petition which was carried unanimous."

Armed with the consent of Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 and recommended as Master Masons in good standing by the Worshipful Master and Wardens of Golden Rule Lodge No. 159, thirteen brothers forthwith petitioned the M. W. Grand Master of Masons in Michigan for permission to form the new lodge to be named "Fraternity". On March 22, 1869 the Dispensation was granted and Fraternity Lodge No. 262, F. & A. M. was founded as already explained. Some thirty-five members of Lodge No. 85 joined Fraternity Lodge and others went into Golden Rule Lodge.

CHARTER OF THE LODGE

The Growth of the Lodge

The growth of the new lodge was not spectacular, yet as lodges go, particularly those that are restrictive and selective in their admissions, Fraternity Lodge did have steady and healthy expansion. From 45 members in 1870 it grew to over a hundred by 1882, to two hundred by 1896, to three hundred by 1907, and so on, reaching a peak in the 1920's of something over 725.

In 1869 Masonry in Michigan was in the midst of a growth cycle that gave strong evidence of the depth of Freemasonry's roots and the vigor of its living and eternal truths in the hearts and minds of men. The vicious lies about Masonry that caused the fifteen-year debacle could not kill the movement. It revived and rebounded stronger than ever.

Besides the lodges in Ann Arbor, we find interest in Masonry developing throughout Washtenaw County. Phoenix Lodge No. 13 in Ypsilanti founded in 1847 prospered. In 1853 Washtenaw Lodge No. 65 in Dexter was chartered. In 1862 came Saline Lodge No. 133, then Manchester Lodge No. 148 in 1864, Olive Lodge No. 156 in Chelsea in 1865 and Milan Lodge No. 323 in 1875. Golden Rule and Fraternity Lodges both continued to grow until overtaken by the Great Depression.

In 1881 when Chapman's History of Washtenaw County was published, it reported that Fraternity Lodge had 85 members. In 1896 Fraternity Lodge published its Directory and listed 197 members, though our report to the Grand Secretary for that year named 205. The 1916 Directory listed 497 members. The depression of the 1930's seriously reduced the ranks when literally hundreds of members were unable to pay dues and were forced to withdraw or be suspended. The Lodge has never fully recovered even after thirty years because it, like other fraternal organizations, has suffered from changing social conditions.

The Work of the Lodge

The work, of course, consists of exemplifying the three Symbolic Degrees of ancient craft Masonry. Probably the best indication of the ups and downs of the Lodge over the years is an accounting year by year of the number of communications held and the number of candidates initiated, passed, and raised. To this might be added the admissions to membership through demit or transfer, withdrawals, suspensions, transfers or demits out of the Lodge, and deaths, but these figures would show not so much how active the Lodge was in its work as the flux of population.

It is to be expected that Fraternity Lodge, being situated in a college town, would have a greater turnover of membership than a lodge in a more stable community. Many members from the University have attended our meetings for a year or so and then moved away. Frequently, more members were lost than were taken in, yet the craft was laboring under a heavy work load. During the twenty-year period from 1920 to 1940 thirty percent of the candidates for degrees indicated on their petitions that their occupation was that of "student". Many others were professors or were attending classes while trying to pursue their regular jobs.

Fraternity Lodge has received transfers from all over the United States and from foreign countries, and likewise it has given permission to lodges far and wide to confer degrees on our brothers who began their search for light in Masonry at our altar. Reflecting the cosmopolitan nature of our jurisdiction also is the fact that quite a few members, even today, are foreign born, coming from Canada, England, South Africa, Australia, the Philippines, Greece, Turkey, Russia, Roumania, Germany, France, Mexico, Sweden, Austria, and other countries.

In order to show the fluctuations in our membership rolls the following tabulation has been prepared covering each of the hundred years of our existence. One column deserving an explanation is the one showing the number of petitioners rejected or blackballed. It does not include rejections for proficiency; only the refusal of the Lodge to accept the petition for initiation or admission. This information is significant because it shows that our members have taken seriously the requirement that a candidate must be worthy and well qualified. To be sure, we may on occasion have been over-zealous or even petty and narrow minded; and at other times we have been perhaps too lenient, as when we have finally accepted a man after previously rejecting him three or four times. The point is that the Lodge does attempt to uphold standards and will reject or even expel an unworthy man, at the same time it is struggling to pay its bills and maintain its membership roll.

Under the heading "Suspensions" the number suspended for non-payment of dues is given. Expulsions are not included because these are rare, yet we have had the unpleasant duty of removing a few members for fraud, adultery, habitual drunkenness, and assault and battery. In connection with the suspensions for non-payment of dues, all brothers should know that the Lodge is very generous in remitting the dues of a worthy brother truly faced with adversity and it will grant a withdrawal certificate to a brother in good standing, who decides for reasons of his own, that he no longer wishes to be affiliated with us.

Not shown in the tabulation, but a point of interest nevertheless, in connection with the turnover of members is the fact that between 1912 and 1918 the Lodge had a provision for "Visiting Memberships" whereby a student brother could affiliate himself with Fraternity Lodge temporarily for a fee of $1 a year.

Coming back to the tabulation, it may be of interest to call attention to the figures for 1880 when only eight communications were held during the entire year and only one candidate was raised. In 1883 there were 16 communications but no raisings. Contrast these years with 1889 when the busy officers held 51 communications and raised 28 to Master Masons. By the 1920's the work load was exceptionally heavy. On March 12, 1920 eighteen men were initiated as Entered Apprentices in one day; and a short time later, on April 30, thirteen were raised at one communication. At the next regular communication ten new petitions for the first degree were received and referred to committees.

During the Depression years of the 1930's, of course, both the work and the financial support of the Lodge fell off dramatically. In 1933, for example, there was only one initiation. In 1935 there were fifty-one suspensions and withdrawals, even though the preceding year the lodge remitted the dues of one hundred fifty-seven of its members.

Incidents of the Work

Some interesting entries having to do with the work of the Lodge appear in the Minutes. Some may seem today like irregularities. For example, in 1884 William C. Hollands and James Wilcoxson both took their Entered Apprentice and Fellowcraft degrees on the same day without any special dispensation being indicated. In 1885 T. Y. Kayne, having received his Fellowcraft degree, desired to proceed and the Worshipful Master vouched for his proficiency in the Second Degree, without any examination in open lodge and permitted him to be made a Master Mason.

In 1917 Mortimer E. Cooley, who had been raised in 1889, wrote a letter to the lodge asking if he could pay up his dues in advance for life while he had some money on hand. A committee was appointed to look into the matter and eventually the lodge voted to accept Cooley as a "life member" for $28.16. This seems like a bargain inasmuch as he did not attain forty years in Masonry until 1929 and he lived until 1944. Perhaps the committee did not consider inflation.

Speaking of inflation, in 1892 two dozen lambskin aprons (real lambskin) cost $11.63, and the little silver trowels presented to each candidate were $50 a hundred. By 1910, however, the trowels were hard to get at a reasonable price and the Lodge decided to give instead lapel buttons with the trowel emblem on them. The practice of presenting a Holman Masonic Bible began in 1941. In 1911, though, the Lodge could afford to buy 400 leather card cases to give to the brothers in which to carry their dues cards.

Another extravagance the Lodge indulged in was buying 500 cigars as a treat to the Craft. They cost $4. The Minutes do not say how they smoked, but they must have been pretty good because the brother who had got them wholesale was asked to buy another box.

In 1907 the Lodge voted to buy five lottery tickets on an automobile to be given away at a Masonic Fair to be held in Jackson. The Minutes fail to indicate what the Lodge intended to do with the prize if they won it, but considering the market value today of a 1907 automobile it would have been a valuable prize indeed. At any rate, this all occurred before the Grand Master's edict of May, 1923 ordering all lodges to stop holding circuses, fairs, bazaars, raffles, and lotteries.

In 1922 the Grand Master instructed the Lodge by letter that a canvas may no longer be used in the Third Degree.

The practice of placing the hand over the heart as a suitable means of saluting the flag at opening and closing exercises was established by Grand Lodge in 1932. The use of the flag in our ceremonies goes back to 1917. On June 1, 1917 the Minutes say: "On motion a committee of three, consisting of Brothers J. L. Arnet, W.M., O. J. R. Bury, and L. P. Jocelyn was appointed to purchase a United States Flag, that being a ruling adopted by the Grand Lodge at its last communication, that every lodge in the state shall display a United States Flag in its lodge rooms." The flag now being used, which was a gift in 1960 from Robert E. Perry, P.M. and Frank A. Davidson, P.M., is today a most respected part of our exercises.

It was moved and carried on May 4, 1923 that the Lodge establish the custom of presenting retiring Worshipful Masters with a jewel and apron, but when it came time to present them, the Treasurer was directed to draw a check for $100 with which the retiring Worshipful Master could buy them. By 1925 the sum was referred to as "the Master's Honorarium" and so it continued until 1934 when the "honorarium" was reduced from $100 to $50. Later it was raised back to $150 and the retiring Master received his jewel and apron as well.

In 1937 William C. Hollands designed and made a Master's jewel consisting of a chain with silver Squares, one for each Past Master, with each name and date engraved on it. With the passing years this chain has become a real keepsake. It is still used as the Master's jewel.

Other lodge accessories worthy of mention at this time are the Rough Ashler and the Perfect Ashler presented in June, 1956 "To All the Blue Lodges" by C. Steinmayer,

A. Becker, and A. Albrecht; and the beautiful Square and Compasses that we so carefully arrange on our Bible which were presented to the Lodge by J. Herman Greve, P.M. in 1931. The blue velvet altar cloth with our name on it was a gift from Golden Rule Lodge on the occasion of our Seventy-Fifth Anniversary.

In 1921 Worshipful Master John B. High gave the Lodge a beautiful Holy Bible with the name of the Lodge embossed on the cover and with an appropriate inscription on the front page. This was used on the altar for a long time until it became worn. Then in 1961 Past Master Ivan L. Weidemaier presented a new Bible which is the one now used. In 1963 Past Master Wendell Hoag presented the Lodge with a Funeral Service Bible.

One interesting custom described in the Minutes is that of appointing a committee to prepare a memorial statement for a worthy departed brother, which statement is then spread upon the Minutes of the Lodge. Some of these memorials have been rather elaborate like the one in 1901 for Peter Lehman which was formally printed by letterpress on a sheet of vellum, 14½ x 6, and inserted into the Minutes book. Others have been merely typewritten or in earlier days inscribed in longhand. Such memorial statements appear not to have been reserved for Past Masters or other dignitaries but were made sincerely by the brothers when they really felt the loss of a good Masonic friend.

Charity and Philanthropy

One of the obligations of every Mason, and presumably of his lodge, is to contribute to the relief of poor, destitute brother Masons, their widows and orphans. Article XII of the first By-Laws provided: "The Master and Wardens shall be ex-officio a committee of Charity and have power during recess of the lodge to draw orders on the Treasury for any sum not exceeding ten dollars for the relief of any one applicant (he proving himself worthy, and being a member of a regularly constituted lodge)."

The individual occasions for charitable relief should be regarded as private concerns and shall not be reviewed here; nevertheless, one can, without violating confidences, remark on some interesting if not surprising actions taken in former times.

In 1874 the Grand Master asked aid for flood sufferers in Louisiana. At that time the Treasurer had on hand only $15.83; so it was moved that "owing to the impoverished condition of the lodge" a committee should be appointed to solicit sums from the members.

In 1878, the Secretary received a letter from Selma Fraternal Lodge asking for $1.00 to help pay off their mortgage; Fraternity Lodge responded. Each member present at the meeting when the letter was read gave ten cents and the sum of one dollar was forwarded to Selma, which later acknowledged the contribution. In the same year the Grand Master again asked for help for brothers in the southern states, this time for those stricken with yellow fever. The Lodge voted $25, but the craft voluntarily gave $30 more in small amounts. Charles Fantle, the Lodge's landlord, gave $2.00 in Mexican coin, which at that time was at 20 percent discount.

Pleas for financial assistance were very frequent in the early part of the century and often irrelevant to the objectives of the lodge. For example, the First Christian Church of Silver Grove, Kentucky, asked for a donation to help them buy furniture; Saugatuck Lodge asked for help for a widow who wanted to buy a house; a lodge in Rockford, Illinois wanted money to help them pay their debts; and a lodge in Wauseon, Ohio asked for financial assistance. There is no question that these requests were honest, but the practice of people and organizations sending out far-flung appeals for money, usually by form letters, did encourage fraud to such an extent that the Masonic Relief Association of the United States and Canada for many years issued monthly warning bulletins relative to dead-beats.

Local charity was more spontaneous and sincere. In 1896 the Lodge voted $50.00 to buy New Year's baskets for the local poor and it apparently met a need because it became a joint project of Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges for a number of years. Later a basket or kettle was placed at the entrance to the Lodge room in which the brothers could drop money for Christmas presents for the poor; and sometimes the Worshipful Master would appoint a special committee at Christmas-time to search out families of Masons that needed help, so that the Lodge could respond.

Another way in which local needs were met was visiting the sick. Fraternal organizations in all cities have their hospital committee or equivalent, but Fraternity Lodge, along with the other Masonic bodies in Ann Arbor, is situated close to one of the world's great medical centers at the University. The hospital committee has visited not only our own members in the hospital but has been happy to call on Masonic brethren brought here from afar. Typical of many entries in the Minutes is this one dated February 1, 1918: "A communication was received from the Worshipful Master of Oconto Falls Lodge No. 293, Oconto Falls, Wisconsin, requesting that we visit their Brother G. W. Krakar, who was undergoing treatment at the University Hospital and also send him some flowers." In this connection it might be mentioned that the University of Michigan Hospital is celebrating its centennial in 1969 also. The Hospital and Fraternity Lodge have, in a sense, grown up together.

Harrison H. Caswell in his Historical Sketch of Golden

Rule Lodge No. 159, Free and Accepted Masons issued for their centennial in 1965 gives a somewhat detailed account on pages 26-28 of the Masonic burial plot in Forest Hill Cemetery. It seems that our Past Master Zina P. King had a deed to a lot obtained by old Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85, of which he had been Senior Warden at the time of its dissolution. The minutes of our Lodge report that on December 3, 1884, it was moved and carried that Fraternity Lodge pay the sum of $12.50 for one-fourth of a cemetery lot in Forest Hill Cemetery to be owned jointly by Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges and the Chapter and the Commandery. On January 6, 1885 the Master of Fraternity Lodge appointed a committee to determine the boundaries of the lot and place stones at the corners and the Lodge appropriated $20 for the purpose. Caswell says that on December 16, 1884, a deed was issued to the Grand Lodge of Michigan for Lots No. 7 and 8 in Block No. 56 of Forest Hill Cemetery "for the use of all Masonic Bodies existing or to exist at a later date in the City of Ann Arbor." This seems to have clearly established the title, and it is understood that a number of burial spaces are still available, presumably for the charitable purposes of our lodge and the other Masonic bodies.

The Minutes for April 6, 1892 contained this resolution: "RESOLVED: That it is the sense of Fraternity Lodge No. 262, F. & A. M., that a stated proportioned amount be contributed annually towards the support of the Michigan Masonic Home while under the supervision of the Grand Lodge" and at the same time $40.75 was approved for this purpose. In 1894 it was resolved to assess fifty cents per capita for the Masonic Home. Regular contributions have been made ever since. In 1901, steps were taken to have Brother Andrew Winslow admitted; he was one of the five Entered Apprentices initiated at the Lodge's first communication for work under dispensation in May, 1869.

Annual contributions are still made to the George William Graves Memorial Christmas Fund for old Masons, their widows and orphans. The first mention of this in the Minutes was in November, 1925 when "A communication was received from R. W. George Graves, Senior Grand Warden announcing the appointment of a committee on a special charity fund for the Home at Alma and the OES orphanage at Adrian and requesting a voluntary contribution."

Another project to which an annual contribution is still made is not strictly a charity, but rather more in the nature of philanthropy. That is the support of the George Washington National Memorial Association. In 1908, a request was received from Fredericksburg Lodge No. 4 in Virginia for a contribution to a Memorial Temple for George Washington and Fraternity Lodge has been pleased to contribute to this historical undertaking many times over the years. Sometimes pleasure has been tinged with a little exasperation, however, as revealed by a note in the Minutes for August 4, 1922: A joint committee with Golden Rule reported on a proposal of the Grand Lodge that Michigan lodges pay $1.00 per capita towards the George Washington Memorial in Alexandria, Virginia and they suggested that we raise our dues from $3.00 to $5.00 and pay $1.00 of it to the fund. Fraternity Lodge promptly moved to raise the dues but to table the George Washington Fund proposal "until the new temple is paid for".

The By-Laws

The first By-Laws were adopted at the first communication under dispensation on March 31, 1869. Since then they have been revised and rewritten many times. At first they spelled out in detail just how a man should prepare a petition for initiation and how it should be received, investigated and balloted upon. Elaborate instructions were given for conducting Masonic trials for un-Masonic conduct, usually the non-payment of dues. And of course provisions were made for the election of officers, the fees and the dues. The present By-Laws are much simpler and more generalized. The reason for this is that over the years the Grand Lodge has refined and expanded its regulations for lodges. The rules of conduct for a lodge nowadays are highly technical and not a subject for a little booklet such as this; but let us leaf thru some of the earlier By-Laws and see what they dictated.

When shall the lodge meet? "The regular meetings of this lodge shall be held on Wednesday on or after the full moon in each month. The hours of assembling shall be seven o'clock P.M." The day was changed to the first Friday in 1892.

How shall I know myself to be a Mason? "Any member in good standing (not in arrears for his dues) shall be entitled to a diploma on proper application and paying the Secretary the sum of fifty cents."

If a member joins on demit, is he a member if he neglects to sign the By-Laws? In 1874 the Secretary was not sure, and he asked the Grand Master who replied, "Yes, if duly elected."

Must a Candidate learn the Work? Yes. "Every candidate for advancement before the degree is conferred shall be examined in open lodge in the degree taken and shall demonstrate his proficiency therein before he progresses." Nevertheless the Minutes state that in 1885 the Worshipful Master vouched for the proficiency of a Fellow Craft and permitted him to be made a Master Mason without examination in open lodge.

When are the officers elected? "They shall be elected annually at the regular communication next preceding the festival of St. John the Evangelist." Yet in 1874 they did not get around to the election until the following May 27th, and in 1876 they held no election at all.

Who shall be elected? "The Worshipful Master, Senior Warden, and Junior Warden shall be elected by ballot. The others (Secretary, Treasurer, Senior Deacon, Junior Deacon, and Tyler) shall be elected or appointed in such manner as the lodge may from time to time determine." In some years it was determined to elect the Secretary, Treasurer, and Tyler by acclamation only; in other years, for example 1884, ballots were passed for every officer including the two Stewards and all were formally installed. Sometimes a Marshal and a Chaplain were appointed, sometimes not; sometimes installed, sometimes not.

What are the fees for conferring the degrees? Twenty-one dollars, seven for each of the three degrees. But fees were raised and lowered many times. In 1908 there was considerable discrepancy between the fees charged by Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges; so much so in fact, that a committee was appointed to work out uniform fees. They decided that Fraternity Lodge should reduce from $50 to $40 and that Golden Rule Lodge should raise from $30 to $40. Since then, all questions of fees have been worked out jointly by the lodges. During the Great Depression of the 1930's the fees were lowered from $100 to $45.

The Temple

Every Mason knows something of the work and skill and dedication that went into the building of the Temple, as well as something of the dissension. As has been explained, the very existence of Fraternity Lodge came about as the result of dissension over the location of the Temple.

Fraternity Lodge has occupied three temples during its first hundred years. In 1869 it moved into the brand new Masonic Hall at 215-217 South Main Street and remained there for sixteen years. In 1885 a committee was commissioned to confer with the other bodies regarding new rooms in the St. James block at the northwest corner of Huron and Main Streets. A month later a deal was made and Fraternity Lodge accepted the offer of Junius Beal and Lyman James to lease the third floor for twenty years at $500 a year if the other bodies concurred. Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges were to pay $100 each, the Chapter $125 and the Commandery $175. On July 1 Fraternity Lodge voted $125 to fresco the walls of the new Temple provided Brother Sorg did the work and took the Lodge's note for two years at six percent. The lodge also voted to pay $400 as its share in furnishing the new Temple even if it would be necessary to borrow the money to do so. The Minutes of October 7 listed the furnishings and reported their value as $819.08.

This Masonic Hall was considered in its day the most elegant and up-to-date Masonic Hall in the state and the Ann Arbor bodies proudly dedicated it on September 24, 1885 with M. W. Grand Master Arthur M. Clark officiating. A picture of the interior of this hall hangs in the ante room of the present meeting place.

But the most modern quickly becomes out-of-date. In 1891 a committee was appointed to see about putting in electric lights. This may seem like a rather routine matter but an entry in The Ann Arbor Register for September 24, 1891 suggests that electric lights in those days were anything but routine. Think of an item like this in a newspaper today: "On every evening, except when the moon shines, Ann Arbor is bathed in the glare of electric lights. So well diffused is the light that there is hardly a dark street in the city. Eight lamps of 2,000 candlepower each are used. They are suspended in the center of the street, sometimes one, sometimes two blocks apart."

In 1902-03 thought was given to redecorating. A committee on new carpet reported that Martin Haller could supply good carpet at $1.50 per square yard. Caswell says that the large-type mahogany, leather-covered furniture still in use in 1969 in the large lodge hall was bought in 1904 from the Karpen Furniture Company of Chicago by a committee consisting of Sid Millard, Elmer Beal and John Lindenschmitt at a cost of $1,309.09. It was paid for by the four bodies and consisted of one tri-chair, two side chairs, nine low-back chairs, one altar, three pedestals, one Secretary's desk and 90 feet of side chairs in sections. Some of the "old furnishings" of 1904 which had been inherited by Fraternity Lodge from its predecessor, Ann Arbor Lodge No. 85 are now in the small lodge room and the Red Cross room.

Notwithstanding the expensive new furnishings purchased from Karpen, the Craft already had raised its sights. In 1901 our Worshipful Master appointed a committee to confer with the other bodies about building a new Temple. It was an ambitious thought, strictly visionary. As is now known, it took that little seed many years to germinate and bear fruit. The move into the "new temple" at 327 South Fourth Avenue was made in 1925.

The story of how the present Temple was planned, financed, and built is a complicated one. It was a fine achievement involving a great deal of sweat and hard work by many dedicated Masons of the community, at the forefront of which were none other than Fraternity Lodge's own Philip Blum, P.M. and John Lindenschmitt, P.M., the latter becoming a long time President of the Masonic Temple Association. Harrison H. Caswell has done considerable research on this subject and has related the story in detail in a mimeographed book entitled: Masonic Meeting Places, Halls and Temples, Committees, Associations and Corporations, Building Sites, Furniture, History and Stories Relating Thereto, in Ann Arbor, Michigan. For the Period 1926 to 1965. This is indexed by the Michigan Historical Collections in the Rackham Building at the University of Michigan and interested readers are referred to it. Let it suffice to say here that Fraternity Lodge did its full share along with the other bodies in bringing the Temple into being.

In 1910, the Lodge gave $1500 to help buy the land. In 1912 it gave another $1,000 towards the site; and on numerous occasions, donated further substantial amounts, bought Masonic Temple bonds, applied a portion of the dues collections to the project, raised fees and appropriated the increases to the building fund, and in later years paid for repairs. Besides this, many of our brothers made personal sacrifices on behalf of the Temple. It is a matter of record, of which Fraternity Lodge can be proud, that in 1933, in the depths of the depression, the Masonic Temple Association reported that in 1929 they had received over $10,000 in donations, dues and fees from the various bodies; in 1933 they received only $205.73, and that from Fraternity Lodge.

The ground was broken for the Temple in 1921 and the Secretary's Minutes for the occasion are worth quoting: "A special Communication of Fraternity Lodge No. 262, F. & A. M. was held at Masonic Hall, Monday afternoon, October 10, A. L. 5921, A. D. 1921. The lodge was opened in due form jointly with Golden Rule Lodge No. 159, F. & A. M. at 3:30 o'clock P.M. The lodge was called from labor to refreshment. Fifteen hundred members and visitors of the two lodges and the Craftsmen of the University of Michigan escorted by the Masonic Band marched to the Masonic Temple site on Fourth Avenue, South, where the following exercises took place . . . President of the Masonic Temple Association, John Lindenschmitt, P.M. of Fraternity Lodge made some remarks prior to the invocation and address and then he turned the sod."

On Friday afternoon, June 30, 1922 the corner stone was laid. The Worshipful Master, Oron J. R. Bury, placed the lodge in charge of the Marshal, Theodore L. Braun, P.M., who formed a parade of Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges escorted by the Commanderies of Ann Arbor, Detroit, Jackson, Monroe, and Ypsilanti, the Grand officers, members of all other Masonic bodies and many visiting Masons. John Lindenschmitt requested that the M.W. Grand Master Clarke W. McKenzie perform the ceremonies. Horatio J. Abbott of Fraternity Lodge presented a sealed casket containing articles of interest to be placed in the stone. The mention of the Detroit Commandery being in attendance brings to mind the fact that the cornerstone of the magnificent Masonic Temple in Detroit was laid just three months later, on September 18, and Fraternity Lodge, along with others, was invited to attend.

The new Temple was dedicated on the afternoon of February 27, 1925 at a joint communication of Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges with Ben J. Henderson, M. W. Grand Master and other officers of the Grand Lodge present. Some 5,000 visitors witnessed the ceremonies and afterwards the ladies of the Eastern Star served dinner to 700 of the brethren and their ladies. H. Wirt Newkirk, Honorary Member of Fraternity Lodge, spoke on the early history of Masonry.

The next evening, February 28th, the two lodges met again in joint communication, this time for the purpose of exemplifying the Third Degree. Howard F. McDougall of Fraternity Lodge was the first Master Mason raised in the new Temple and then A. Almus Hale of Golden Rule Lodge was raised.

It has been a continuous struggle down to the present day, but most especially during the depressing Thirties, to pay for the building, keep it in repair, and maintain it in full operation. At the same time the members, particularly the Life Members who have experienced these years, will recall many happy times spent and some very spectacular ceremonies conducted in this Temple. As examples one can recall the evening when the St. Andrew's Highland Degree Team from Zion Lodge No. 1 in Detroit exemplified the Third Degree in the Scottish dialect, the Constitution Night commemorating the 147th Anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, the time the Ford Rolling Mill team worked the third degree, the night that the Detroit Edison Craft Team appeared, the occasion when St. Andrew's Lodge No. 642 from Windsor, Ontario, visited Fraternity Lodge with their Color Guard, and the meeting when the Sir Knights of Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K. T. drilled for the Lodge and conferred the first degree on Carl W. Read. The Temple has indeed served well as a temple of Masonry and a center of fellowship—for which purpose it was erected and dedicated.

With this background in mind, the members of Fraternity Lodge should feel at home in their Temple and not like renters. They should be very proud of their achievement, but not content with it since even now the Temple is outdated and inadequate, especially in its social accommodations.

Social Life

It is impossible to mention all the social events, banquets, balls, card parties, excursions, and the like that have entertained Fraternity Lodge members, their wives, families, and friends during the past hundred years. But let it be said they have been many and gala. The newspaper report of our inaugural ball has already been quoted, now to review some of the other notable extra activities since 1870.

One of the first items to be mentioned in the Minutes was a Festival and Ball given on February 21, 1873 by Washtenaw Lodge No. 65 in Dexter to which Fraternity Lodge received an invitation. The same year the Lodge was invited to Lansing to witness the laying of the cornerstone of the State Capitol. This was a social as well as a ceremonial event. Fraternity Lodge and Lansing Lodge No. 33 have maintained friendly contacts for many decades and have visited each other to exemplify the work on a number of occasions.

In 1887 the Lodge joined with Golden Rule Lodge and the Odd Fellows "in getting up an excursion," presumably to Bob-Lo or Tashmoo or something of the sort. Inasmuch as the Odd Fellows were an eighteenth century off-shoot of the Masons, this is not a particularly surprising combination.

In 1892 (October 12) Fraternity Lodge attended the dedication of a new hall for Milan Lodge No. 323. These are just a few casual excerpts from the Minutes to illustrate our social and ritualistic endeavors.

One note in the Minutes is cryptic but intriguing: "Paid $3.63 to the Detroit Bicycle Club for entertainment." (July 3, 1896).

Fraternity Lodge received a request in 1907 from Golden Rule Lodge to form a baseball team of Master Masons. The records show that money was appropriated for suits, balls, and bats and mention is made frequently thereafter about the games.

In 1894 the Worshipful Master appointed a committee to see about establishing a Club Room for Masons and indications are that the idea was carried out. In 1909 it received a new impetus. Philip Blum, then a Past Master, was made a committee of one to place two billiard tables in one corner of the dining room at no cost to the Lodge. He actually bought one pool table and one billiard table at a cost of $350. Fraternity Lodge lent him half the amount until the cost could be recovered from the fees charged. The very next year the committee reported it had paid for the tables and made a profit besides and proposed to buy two more tables. As a matter of fact, the Club Room operated in the black for a number of years and returned to the Treasurer of the Lodge a tidy sum each year as our share of the profits. It may be of interest to add that in 1940 two pool tables were sold to raise money to refurbish the Club rooms; perhaps they were left from Bro. Blum's venture.

In 1919 a committee was appointed to organize a Masonic Band in cooperation with the other bodies. The Lodge appropriated several hundred dollars for instruments and uniforms. It was this band that led the procession on the occasion of the Turning of the Sod for the Temple.

One interesting and successful undertaking was the work of a joint Masonic Special Committee on Entertainment in 1912-13 for the purpose of raising money to buy a new organ and piano for the use of the bodies. First a dance was held in the Light Guard Armory on June 7, 1912 and it was such a success that $95.70 was cleared. The committee was so elated over this that another dance was scheduled and this netted $75.76. By now the committee had courage enough to hire the United States Marine Band from Washington, D.C. to appear in concert in the Whitney Theater. The event on September 12, 1912 was another social and, no doubt, musical success. The theater cost $100 and $550 was spent for the band, posters, handbills and programs but there was still a clear profit of $203.66. Indeed by June 1913 the committee had accumulated $1,329.16 and proposed to continue its efforts as more money was needed.

Not exactly a social event, but surely a fraternal one, was our Lodge's acceptance of an invitation from the Worshipful Master of Golden Rule Lodge to join that Lodge in attending church services on Sunday, December 13, 1914 at the English Lutheran Church, he having in turn been invited by The Reverend Courtland Miller. Attending church together has been a way, from time to time, that brother Masons have cemented their personal friendships.

One of Fraternity Lodge's most happy social events was the Diamond Jubilee Ball held on January 26, 1945 to celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary. Over four hundred Masons and their ladies attended at the Temple. Following a chicken dinner served by members of the three Ann Arbor Blue Lodges and of the DeMolay, Worshipful Master Glen D. Struble turned the meeting over to Past Master George H. Sandenburgh who acted as toastmaster. Short talks were given by a number of notables present including Past Master Horace G. Prettyman and Past Master John B. High. There was musical and dance entertainment and finally social dancing till midnight. The program booklet contained a picture of the Temple and a brief "Highlights of Fraternity's History".

A Masonic Library

A Masonic Library has been a dream of the members of Fraternity Lodge ever since 1896 when the Lodge voted $50 to establish one. Again in 1907 the Lodge voted $50 to start a library as a joint project with the other bodies. Just how and when the accumulation and display of volumes got under way is not clear, but a library was started. In 1916 H. Wirt Newkirk, then Worshipful Master of Washtenaw Lodge No. 65, Dexter, and later an Honorary Member and eventually an admitted member of Fraternity Lodge, in honor of his son's raising, presented our library with a rare book, The American Masonic Register by Luther Pratt, printed in 1821 and one of sixty volumes in Ariel H. Fillmore's library. In 1918 Eugene K. Frueauff presented Fraternity Lodge with several volumes of Masonic literature from his library. The lodge at that time voted to turn these over to William C. Hollands, book-binder to the University, to be placed in the University Library for safekeeping until such time as a suitable place could be provided for them by the Lodge; the amplication is that our little library had not fared well. Indeed, some of the old-timers say the library, which had been kept in the Club rooms, suffered pilferage and in time practically disappeared, at least the more valuable volumes were gone. This is a sad commentary on human nature and one can only hope that our Masonic brethren were not parties to the theft.

In 1924, William Bury, our tyler for seventeen years until his death in 1930, gave the lodge a rebound copy of Mackey's Masonic Encyclopedia which is quite valuable. Still another valuable volume is the By-Laws and History of Fraternity Lodge No. 262, F. & A. M., Ann Arbor, Michigan, 1907.

In 1906 William C. Hollands was authorized to obtain a travelling Masonic library for Ann Arbor for a period of three months for the cost of transportation. He placed it under the supervision of the Club Rooms custodian. This action reaffirmed the continuing interest of our Lodge in the Masonic library idea.

During 1961-62 an attempt to re-establish the Masonic Library was made by Marlin Prindle and Robert Murphy of Golden Rule Lodge in connection with a Masonic Study Club or Masonic Educational Club. The Temple Board cooperated in the project, but it did not meet with unqualified success. There is a small library of Masonic books in the Club Room on the Third Floor of the Temple which is available to all Masons in good standing. Anyone wishing to read in the Club room or to borrow a book for a limited period should contact the Worshipful Master or the Wardens.

Finally in 1969, it appears that the long-cherished dream of a Masonic Library in Ann Arbor is about to materialize.

Through the untiring efforts of Past Grand Master Roscoe O. Bonisteel, an Honorary Member of Fraternity Lodge since 1929, and the efforts of other dedicated Masons in the state, the Grand Lodge of Michigan at its last communication voted funds to help establish and maintain a Masonic Library at the University of Michigan in a new building to be constructed on the North Campus. It is to be hoped that Fraternity Lodge can somehow corral at least a few of the valuable books it has received as gifts and donate them to the new library when it is established, as a token of our enduring concern for the preservation of Masonic materials.

Masonic Publications

The Masonic bodies in Ann Arbor have undertaken intermittently to publish directories, booklets, and periodicals of special interest to the Craft. Sometimes they were joint ventures. In 1896 Fraternity Lodge issued its own Directory. In 1899 a Masonic Directory of all the bodies was published. Again in 1916 Fraternity Lodge issued a separate Directory. There may have been other publications because committees were appointed in 1900, 1902, 1904, and 1914 to issue a directory, but the three mentioned above are the only ones still in the library.

In 1907 a little booklet was prepared entitled By-Laws and History of Fraternity Lodge No. 262, F. & A. M. reproducing our Dispensation and Charter and containing pictures of the Grand Master who issued them and of the Masonic Hall in the St. James block where the lodge met. No authorship is shown but it seems to have been the work of Arthur M. Smith who was Junior Warden in 1907. A copy of this little booklet presented to the Lodge by Harrison H. Caswell is in the possession of our Secretary.

On November 5, 1905, a committee was appointed to consider the publication of a monthly Masonic bulletin, but nothing came of it. In 1911 again a committee was appointed to take up the matter and this time they brought in a report, namely that no Masonic bulletin was necessary. Apparently it was thought that if Masons would attend lodge regularly they would hear all the fraternal news at first hand. This opinion, or something like it, prevailed until 1928, according to the Minutes, at which time a committee headed by John W. Bradshaw reported that a monthly four-page Masonic bulletin was proposed and had been underwritten financially for a period of six months by Philip C. Pack. If this action ever came to fruition, it did not endure.

It was not until 1930 that a Masonic monthly actually appeared. On December 5 of that year the Ann Arbor Trestleboard asked the Lodge to pay the cost of mailing copies to each of its members. The Lodge voted to pay a cent and a half a copy. Ann Arbor Trestleboard was the personal undertaking of James D. Ramsay, Jr., a printer and later Worshipful Master of Golden Rule Lodge, with the help of A. Almus Hale as business manager. They solicited advertising and attempted to send the paper free of charge to all Masons in the Ann Arbor area, but the paper became a victim of the depression. Many of our present members will remember this little paper which ran for about a year and a half and in many ways resembled the present Ann Arbor Masonic News.

Volume 1, No. 1 of the Ann Arbor Masonic News came out on March 15, 1943. LaVerne C. Rose of Golden Rule Lodge was the editor and A. Almus Hale again appeared as business manager. The Minutes of Fraternity Lodge for April 2, 1943 report that a committee was appointed to assist in the establishment of this paper, and the Lodge appropriated some funds to help get the paper started and agreed to pay postage to its members. We still support this worthy Masonic organ. The first issue carried news of the Chapter, Council, and Commandery only, but succeeding issues brought in Golden Rule and Fraternity Lodges and eventually Ann Arbor Lodge No. 544, The Eastern Star, and Zal Gaz Grotto. Today this paper carries the headings of ten different Masonic bodies and reports news from several Masonic clubs as well.

Fortunately, this excellent publication has prospered and has done much for Masons in this area to keep them abreast of fraternal activities and to give them a sense of Masonic unity amid the multiplicity of lodges, affiliated bodies, and clubs. Virgil G. Brown took over as editor in 1948 and L. James Hollaway, the present editor and publisher, took charge in July, 1950.

Relations With The University

The relations between Fraternity Lodge and the University of Michigan have always been most cordial. As previously stated, some thirty percent of the Lodge initiates have been University students, and many members have held positions of importance on the faculty and on the administrative staff, as reported in another portion of this booklet.

Starting in 1908 and for twenty-five years, the Craftsmen Club of the University of Michigan united the Masonic students and gave them the opportunity to learn the Work and take part in conferring degrees. They developed a Craft team so expert that the Grand Lodge recognized them, supplied them with a Michigan ritual, and even gave them substantial financial aid for a number of years. The Club performed in lodges all over the state but was at home here in the Temple, encouraged by Fraternity and Golden Rule Lodges. Robert A. ("Uncle Bob") Campbell, Treasurer of the University, a member of Lansing Lodge No. 33 and an Honorary Member (1916) of Fraternity Lodge was the directing force behind the group, and in the later years, Past Master Emory Sink also took an active part in it. The Craftsmen occupied the chairs in Fraternity Lodge often and it is notable that they were invited as a group to join us at the turning of the sod for the new temple. They in turn invited Fraternity Lodge to attend some of their functions on the campus. Besides Robert A. Campbell, Hugh Montgomery Bell, President of the Craftsmen Club, was made an Honorary Member of Fraternity Lodge in 1922.

Another University group associated with us were the Masons of the University of Michigan Law School. In 1913 it was moved that Fraternity Lodge invite the Masonic members of the 1906 Law Class at their 1914 Reunion to exemplify the Third Degree in our lodge. They appeared in force and conferred the Master Mason's degree. This same Law Class in 1931 at their twenty-fifth anniversary reunion again came to Fraternity Lodge and conferred a degree with George Philip of Sioux City, South Dakota, serving as Worshipful Master just as he had done in 1914. He had almost the entire team that originally appeared with him. During the interim between 1914 and 1931, George Philip had acquired the title of Past Grand Master of Masons in South Dakota.

Relations with Other Masonic Bodies

Since its inception, Fraternity Lodge No. 262 has been closely associated with Golden Rule Lodge No. 159, Wash-tenaw Chapter No. 6, R.A.M., and Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K.T.

Not only have Fraternity Lodge brothers taken the York Rite degrees, but twenty-nine have been High Priest in the Chapter: William G. Doty, Charles E. Hiscock, James L. Stone, Wesley E. Howe, Horace G. Prettyman, Elmer E. Beal, John W. Lindenschmitt, Philip N. Blum, Arthur M. Smith, William L. Walz, Gustave H. Sodt, William S. Mills, Albert H. Staebler, Thomas H. Corbett, James N. Galbraith, Oron J. R. Bury, Frank E. Royce, Louis P. Jocelyn, John W. Schwer, Thomas I. Biddle, William H. Murray, William F. Verner, William J. Saunders, I. William Groomes, Ralph B. Siferd, Edward O. Johnson, Santiago E. Victorio, Floyd A. Singer, and Benjamin A. Rossin.

Similarly, seventeen have been Eminent Commanders in the Commandery: Zina P. King, William D. Harriman, William G. Doty, Charles E. Hiscock, Elmer E. Beal, Ross Granger, John W. Lindenschmitt, Philip N. Blum, William L. Walz, Gustave H. Sodt, Thomas H. Corbett, John N. Galbraith, Oron J. R. Bury, John B. High, George H. Sandenburgh, Edward O. Johnson, and Santiago E. Victorio.

Besides these senior organizations which were on the scene when Fraternity Lodge was born, a number of other Masonic bodies have come into being in which members or even the Lodge itself officially have had a part in one way or another. It is not practical here to name all the brothers who have been active in these societies. We shall merely touch on a few insofar as they have come to our knowledge, trusting our Masonic brethren will be charitable toward us if we omit names that should be mentioned. Perhaps the errors and omissions will be reported to the Secretary for the record as an aid to future committees charged to review the Lodge's history.

One of the oldest and most respected auxiliary organizations is the Order of the Eastern Star. Ann Arbor Chapter No. 122 was formed here in 1894. Many of the wives and daughters of Fraternity Lodge members have taken part in the Star's activities over the years and, furthermore, quite a few of the brothers themselves have had a part and served as Worthy Patrons. W. B. Smith and Thomas Taylor from Fraternity Lodge were among the original petitioners for the Chapter. On the occasion of the Star's fiftieth anniversary in 1944, Fraternity Lodge was happy to send a floral tribute and Past Master William C. Hollands, himself especially active in the Star and Grand Patron of Michigan, collected the data for a complete history of the Eastern Star in Michigan. This year, 1969, the Ann Arbor Chapter celebrates its seventy-fifth anniversary of distinguished service to this community. The Star, as an Order, received its first ritual over a hundred years ago in 1868, the year before Fraternity Lodge was founded.

In the same year that the Eastern Star Chapter was formed here, the Ann Arbor Masonic Mutual Benefit Association was organized by a group of thirty Master Masons, fifteen each from Fraternity and Golden Rule lodges. For seventy-five years it, too, has served the Masons of Ann Arbor faithfully and well.

In 1911 came the Zal Gaz Grotto, M. O. V. P. E. R. and this lively group with its sister society, Zal-Gaz Caldron No. 7, Daughters of Mokanna, has been a source of pleasure to brothers and their wives over the years. A number of Fraternity Lodge brothers have served as Monarch in the Grotto. In addition, the Grotto has done and still does some excellent degree work in our Lodge. For example, the Minutes for November 16, 1934 record that some one hundred members of Zal Gaz Grotto visited Fraternity Lodge, and on October 23, 1936 the Degree Team of the Grotto presented the Third Degree in a most impressive manner.

The Order of DeMolay, now a world-wide organization of boys some three million strong, was founded by Frank S. Land in Kansas City, Missouri, in March 1919. In 1921 the Grand Council was established. On July 1, 1921, the following item appeared in the Minutes of Fraternity Lodge: "RESOLUTION: It is the desire of this lodge that concurrent action be taken with Golden Rule Lodge for the support of a chapter of DeMolay in Ann Arbor and a committee be appointed to confer with a like committee from Golden Rule for that purpose." The first ceremonial convocation and installation of officers was held in Harris Hall on December 14 of the same year and the next spring Fraternity Lodge voted $200 to aid the group.

After a notable start DeMolay in Ann Arbor languished during the Depression years, but in 1939 Fraternity Lodge again voted $150 as initial aid "in the resurrection of Ann Arbor DeMolay". It was not until 1941 that the three Ann Arbor Blue Lodges were able to revive the charter but they did so as witness this entry in the Minutes for March 13, 1942:

"The W.M. announced that the members of the DeMolay Chapter would attend church services as a body on Sunday, March 15 at the Church of Christ of which our Chaplain (The Reverend Frederick Cowin) is the Pastor and invited all Masons and their friends to worship with them." Fraternity Lodge has lent its support to DeMolay ever since through several phases of ups and downs.

Ann Arbor Council No. 86, Royal and Select Masters, was formed here in 1922. Nine members of Fraternity Lodge have occupied the East as Thrice Illustrious Master: I. William Groomes, Oron J. R. Bury, Carl H. Read, Thomas I. Biddle, Edward O. Johnson, Santiago E. Victorio, Benjamin A. Rossin, Ralph B. Siferd, and Frank A. Mickle. Today the Council occupies a respected place in Ann Arbor Masonry along with the Chapter and Ann Arbor Commandery.

Other organizations, Masonic in character, with which our brothers have been associated are Arbor Shrine No. 54, White Shrine of Jerusalem (1948), Ann Arbor Assembly, Order of the Rainbow Girls (1954); Washtenaw Shrine Club, arm of Moslem Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S. (1945) of which four of the Past Presidents were members of Fraternity Lodge, Elmer A. Clark, Paul J. Koken, Benjamin A. Rossin, and Leo R. Harrington; and the Washtenaw Consistory Club (1949), reactivated as the Scottish Rite Club of Washtenaw County and chartered by the Detroit Consistory (1959); two of the Past Presidents, Leo R. Harrington and Gaylord N. Bebout, Jr., belong to Fraternity Lodge.

Fraternity Lodge has also admired the successful work of Golden Rule Lodge's Trowel Club (1925) and has sought to emulate it in the New Members Club and the 262 Club but without similar success. Then there was Acacia Fraternity (1905), the collegiate fraternal society which originally was made up of students who were Masons. William L. Miggett of Fraternity Lodge was one of the organizers and several Fraternity Lodge student members became members of Acacia. The Masonic Masters Association (1922) submitted its By-Laws to Fraternity Lodge for approval; and the important part taken by Fraternity Lodge in the Ann Arbor Masonic Temple Association (1912) and in its successor, the 327 South Fourth Avenue Corporation, has been mentioned earlier.

Nor can relations with the Grand Lodge of Michigan be neglected. Aside from routine business with the Grand Secretary (the present Grand Secretary, Glenn L. Alt, P.

G.M. is an Honorary Member of Fraternity Lodge (1962)), and attendance at the Grand Lodge communications, Fraternity Lodge has been honored on a number of occasions to have the Grand Master and his officers visit our lodge as well as attend the joint installation ceremonies. Five of the Grand Masters have been made Honorary Members. In addition, Past Master Byron N. Wilson as representative of District Seven and President of the Board of General Purposes has brought honor to Fraternity Lodge.

Mention should be made here of Fraternity brothers who have been especially honored by other Masonic bodies. Past Masters Charles E. Hiscock and John W. Lindenschmitt and also C. Nils Tavares, Federal District Judge in Hawaii, were elected to membership in the Supreme Council of Sovereign Grand Inspectors General of the Thirty-Third and Last Degree of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States of America in recognition of their contributions to Freemasonry and of their work elsewhere reflecting credit upon our movement. Past Masters Edward O. Johnson and Santiago E. Victorio were inducted into the order of Knights of the York Cross of Honor, Fred H. Pocock Priory No. 22, K. Y. C. H. in recognition of the fact that they have presided in the East in all the York Rite bodies—Blue Lodge, Chapter, Council, and Commandery. Past Master Byron N. Wilson was presented by the M. W. Grand Master with a Certification of Appointment as a Representative of the United Grand Lodge of Ancient and Accepted Masons of England in recognition of his work as President of the Board of General Purposes. These honors reflect credit upon Fraternity Lodge in which each of these men was raised and which each (except C. Nils Tavares) served faithfully as Worshipful Master. The Lodge is very proud of them.

A CITY NOT MADE WITH HANDS

The membership of Fraternity Lodge, comprising nearly 2,200 different persons during its existence, have been employed in at least 200 different occupations and it is of interest to point out that if all were living and active in the lodge and in their businesses today, they could furnish the basic needs of a hypothetical community. Unfortunately, practical considerations make it impossible to write about all the individuals. A number of older Masons have spent many hours going over the membership rolls of Fraternity Lodge and have recalled certain individuals who they thought had contributed substantially to national, state, county, city and fraternal matters. It is from these lists together with the list of Past Masters of Fraternity Lodge that the names of individuals mentioned in the following write-up have been chosen. Regretably, many deserving individuals may have been skipped over because they were not called to the attention of the authors. For such omissions, apology is made. It can be hoped that most of those who contributed so much have been named.

The construction of homes, office buildings, schools, factories and other structures is essential to all communities and involves many professions. In our hypothetical city where the occupations of the nearly 2,200 past and present members of the Lodge are assumed to be available, either William B. Cuthbert or George McConkey could furnish the architectural part of needed construction. The abstract of the property could be checked by Arthur Brown who owned the Washtenaw Abstract Co. Vernon McAdam could do the surveying and W. E. Howe, John Koch, or A. R. Cole could be the contractors. The Frisingers, R. N. and H. H., might call on the Snyders, Clarence and Howard, to do the excavating. Two bricklayers, a carpenter foreman and several carpenters including John P. Little, seven times Master of Fraternity Lodge, could erect the structure with lumber from either E. Fingerle or C. W. Gill and glass from the Feiner's, Carl and W.J. T. Hutzel, T. Backhaus and S. Andres could handle the plumbing and if the latter were helping, he would probably recommend oil as fuel for the heating system since he was the first heating contractor in the area to encourage its use. J. Galbraith could help with a steam system and Fred Hough could supervise the electric installation after John Judson had estimated the cost and Byron Wilson had put in his word as representative of the Detroit Edison Company. A lather, plasterer, refrigeration engineer (for air conditioning) and a tile setter appear in the lists of past members as well as a woodworker who might be a better cabinet maker for special parts than the carpenters. John Young, George Lutz and E. Finkbeiner could handle the painting while T. Keech, manager of the telephone company and representatives of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, including Arne Swanson, superintendent, Erwin C. Gould, chief testman, and David P. Stuart and Carl D. Simmons, engineers, could arrange telephone service. A decorator also appears on the membership rolls and Glen Struble could be called in later if additions or repairs are needed.

For the person who needed to buy a lot or a completed house, Zina P. King and Sibley G. Taylor, our first Masters, A. H. Paton, C. L. Brooks, Douglas Golden, George Cornell, William S. Morton, and Louis C. Deising have been recommended as real estate agents. Zina P. King, F. T. McOmber, Ellery A. Schmidt, T. Lowry, H. Bacher, P. E. Trosper, Jr., T. R. Piersol and Robert E. Perry would be available for insurance on person, home or other property. Benjamin A. Rossin, an accountant, and John B. Dowdigan, a bookkeeper, could help keep orderly accounts on all these transactions.

Once a home has been built, Paul M. Haller of the Martin Haller Company could help with the furnishings including rugs and furniture. Herman Allmendinger could supply a piano which might be kept in tune by Vic Allmendinger while J. Jacobus could teach the children how to play the drums. Out on the farms, Earl and Paul Lohr, through the Ann Arbor Implement Company, could take care of farm needs as well as helping the city residents with lawn mowers, snow blowers, and other equipment.

There have been many merchants to clothe the family, especially the men, and these include E. J. Reule, C. W. Wagner, G. Apfel, T. Corbett, J. Lindenschmitt, and E. Staeb. If one preferred tailored clothes, Frank Glen would make them or T. Braun, who also worked in the Michigan Union, would take your measurements for clothes made to order. Theodore and Nicholas Chapekis would see that clothes and other materials that needed cleaning would be handled properly.

Osias Zwerdling could supply mink or other fur materials for the ladies in the city and John Wahr and K. F. Zieffle could keep people well shod. William Arnold, Fred Arnold and F. Seyfried had jewelry, dishes, etc., for all, and if you were in Arnold's, Emil could fit you with eye glasses. Kenneth Struble would keep your hair out of your eyes and ears.

In our hypothetical city one must eat and groceries, meats, baked goods, etc., could be obtained from excellent stores run by members of Fraternity Lodge. For groceries and meats one might go to F. W. Lamb and L. M. Spencer, W. J. McLean and J. A. Neelands, or D. E. Grennan. Robert L. Stepp would probably deliver some of the supplies from the wholesalers to the stores. Baked goods from O. F. Laubengayer, who owned the Quality Bakery, or from Glen Struble and Mason Hoaglin, at the Hoaglin Pie Shop, and candy from L. Kruspe would give one excellent sweets. Our farmer members could always help out on vegetables and other staples when needed.

When one wished to "eat out", we find a choice of places to go; the "Pretzel Bell" where John Neelands hosted for a time, the "Sugar Bowl" where the four Prekete brothers, Charles, Frank, Paul, and Anthony, served people for so many years; J. Blashill who ran a small place near the corner of State and Packard, where he claimed he could serve "a thousand people, eight at a time," Frank Manikas at his "Steak House," Art Mellos at his "Beef Buffet," or at the restaurant which Ralph Siferd ran at one time. If you were a student, you might wish to join the Michigan football team and eat at Horace Prettyman's boarding house on North University Avenue, where the School of Dentistry is now located. If you were in need of a hotel room, A. H. Staebler would welcome you at the Old American House on West Washington Street.

Lloyd Douglas, who later became well known as an author, and Henry Tatlock, were Ministers who could perform in times of joy at weddings and in times of sorrow at funerals. For pictures of special occasions that arose, one could call Fred Basom and to get photographic supplies for both professional needs and for the amateur, E. Percy Mack, would be ready.

Newspaper notices might be handled by C. B. Davison in the "Peninsular Courier," Edward J. Morton in the "Ann Arbor Register" or Alvick A. Pearson, owner of the "Washtenaw County Republican."

Invitations, announcements, advertising placards and other printed matter could be well taken care of by Adam Goetz, F. Ohlinger, C. F. Meyers or Horace G. Prettyman. The Goodhews, H. J. and Al, could furnish flowers for all occasions as they have done for so many years for all the Masonic bodies. Charles Barthel and Thomas I. Biddle could supply us with reading matter from their bookstores.

In the days when the Ann Arbor Railroad carried passengers, we find an engineer, V. Allmendinger, and a conductor C. Schneider who worked together, and in the files were also a brakeman, a trainman and a yardmaster. Naturally, Fraternity Lodge could furnish a liveryman, and a blacksmith to shoe the horses and to repair the rims of wheels.

In the first quarter of this twentieth century, Ann Arbor had local street cars as well as being on the main line of the Detroit United Railway, an interurban service connecting Detroit and Chicago. Many of our members who were accustomed to going out Packard Street to reach their homes after Lodge meetings late at night would ride the D. U. R.; William L. Walz, Tom Hopwood, James Galbraith and Frank Royce were wont to do this as a group.

Automobiles could be bought from Russell J. Vial, Wendel L. Hoag or Edwin C. Lewis and we can recommend Chester G. Perry to see that the cars are kept in good order. H. Abbott and J. F. Staebler would sell you gasoline, but the latter might get into trouble with city officials if he attempted to install his curbside sidewalk pumps. In more modern means of transportation, there have been an airplane mechanic, an airplane inspector and a test pilot as Lodge members.

Persons holding county positions have included Philip N. Blum, County Clerk; Horatio Abbott, Register of Deeds; L. O. Cushing, Supervisor and County Auditor; John Gott, James N. Galbraith, Frank Royce, and E. J. Allmendinger, Supervisors; William F. Verner, Treasurer; E. J. Allmendinger, Maxwell M. Royce, Kenneth Hollenbeck, Marion Beltz, Garnett Burlingame, and H. H. Frisinger, County Road Commissioners; and Fred Looker in the Sheriff's Office.

In the city, we find Zina P. King as City Recorder; Carl Sanzi as Public Works Engineer; George Sandenburgh as City Engineer; Harold Scovill, Assistant City Engineer; Vernon McAdam, Surveyor; William F. Verner, Treasurer; F. J. Looker, Assistant Treasurer and later City Clerk. E. Heller was chief of the fire department for many years. William D. Harriman, Walter T. Seabolt, William L. Walz, C. A. Sink, and William Saunders served as City Councillors, and W. D. Harriman, C. A. Sink and C. W. Gill were on the Board of Education. Titus Hutzel helped on the Board of Public Works and Ray A. Dolph was President of the Chamber of Commerce. C. P. Witcher was in charge of the city sewage treatment plant. William D. Harriman (four years), C. E. Hiscock, E. D. Kinne, Wm. G. Doty, Bradley M. Thompson, Cyrenus G. Darling, Arthur Brown, William L. Walz, George E. Lewis, and W. E. Hulcher have served as Mayor of the City.

Since Ann Arbor is noted for its educational facilities, it is not unreasonable to find that Fraternity Lodge has been well represented in these circles. Horatio Chute in Physics (who always referred to the Huron as the "raging Huron" river) and Levi D. Wines and L. P. Jocelyn in mathematics were teachers who made their names well known in A. A. High School circles. Wines was also Principal of the High School for many years. Others included John B. High as teacher and later as Superintendent of the buildings and grounds of the public schools and Otto W. Haisley and L. Wines who served as Superintendent of Schools.

In the University of Michigan, we find a Regent, J. Beal; a President, A. G. Ruthven; a Secretary and Vice-President, Shirley W. Smith, who was also an early Secretary of the Alumni Association; many Deans including several in Engineering: Mortimer E. Cooley, H. C. Anderson, Herbert C. Sadler; in Literature, Science and The Arts: E. H. Kraus; in Pharmacy: E. H. Kraus, C. H. Stocking, and a former member of the College who became Dean of Pharmacy at the University of New Mexico, E. L. Cataline; in Education: J. B. Edmonson; in Music: E. V. Moore; in Medicine: F. G. Novy and V. C. Vaughan; in Dentistry: Marcus Ward and R. Bunting.

Professors in the University of Michigan other than those in the administration or in the health areas which are included elsewhere cover a wide range of interests. In Law, Bradley M. Thompson, John R. Rood, Joseph Drake and E. R. Sunderland have been mentioned. A large number of Engineers in many different areas of that field have made their names known to other members of the Lodge: Axel Marin, Alexander Ziwet, J. E. Emswiler, C. Fessenden, F. N. Menefee, Orlan Boston, William F. Verner, Clarence Johnston, H. Raschbacher, Frank Mickle, Martin J. Orbeck, G. M. Bleekman, Ray Hoisington and Elmer Pettyjohn. In other Colleges on the campus, one finds: Economics, I. Leo Sharfman; Speech, Gale Densmore and R. H. Hollister; English, Gaylord Bebout, Jr.; Broadcasting, Waldo Abbott; German, W. W. Florer; Psychology, Otis M. Cope;

Bible, W. A. Waterman; Mathematics, John Bradshaw; Chemistry, Leigh C. Anderson and Alfred L. Ferguson; Business Administration, Earl Wolaver; Forestry, Odemus Sponsler; Music, Kenneth Westerman and Otto Stahl.

The School of Dentistry of the University provided the city with many outstanding dentists in addition to those who have had their training elsewhere. Besides those included in the list of Deans of the University, the following Fraternity Lodge members in this profession have been mentioned: William H. Dorrance, R. B. Howell, G. A. Howlett, E. L. Whitman, A. J. Hall, R. H. Dimock, H. K. Burch and R. E. Drake who, in honor of his becoming one hundred years old in September 1968, was made Dean of Dentistry for the day.

The School of Medicine has furnished or attracted to this community many outstanding physicians and surgeons. This hypothetical city would have specialists, general practitioners and research personnel to combat all types of illnesses and physical disabilities. Among these persons could be Cyrenus G. Darling, surgeon; Emory Sink, ophthalmologist; William S. Mills, osteopath; G. F. Ronneberger; Victor Vaughan, F. G. Novy, James F. Breakey, C. L. Washburn, W. J. Herman, S. M. Yutsy, G. A. Ganzhorn (who also served as Coroner for some years), S. L. LaFever, obstetrician and gynecologist; A. D. Wickett who did so much good during the "flu" epidemic of 1918 and W. E. Forsythe who was in charge of the Student Health Service for many years.

Prescriptions and other drug needs recommended by the doctors mentioned above could be satisfied through many members of the Lodge: L. O. Cushing, A. B. Mummery, F. H. Stegath, G. Claude Drake and Paul Gibson.

In point of order, it would probably be appropriate at this time to point out that Ray Dolph would be in readiness to take over when the doctors were unable to maintain life. The Arnets, J. L. and F. L., could prepare the granite for the graves.

University employees, other than faculty include: W. Aubrey, E. C. Pardon, and R. G. Greve who served in the Plant Department, Herbert Wagner in Food Service where Frank A. Davidson was Produce Buyer and Floyd Singer was stockman, Edward O. Johnson, Assistant Chief Engineer in the power house, and J. Herman Greve in the business office. William C. Hollands in charge of printing and binding did excellent work.

A. A. Pearson was founder of the Michigan Alumnus. Charles A. Sink was Secretary and later President of the University Musical Society and L. D. Wines was one of the founders of the University Choral Union. Homer Heath was the moving element in the development of the Michigan Union and was first President of the M Club; he was followed in the Union by F. C. Kuenzel. Santiago E. Victorio became known to many through his services in the Michigan Union dining room. Harry M. Cobb was an instructor and foreman of a machine shop. O. Hogquist is listed as an assistant at the U. of M. and Earl D. Ashford as an auditor with headquarters in the Michigan Union.

All through the years, Fraternity Lodge has been well represented in the legal profession starting with Zina P. King and Sibley G. Taylor, the first two Masters. The Supreme Court of the State of Michigan has had C. B. Grant and Aaron V. McAlvay on its bench and W. D. Harriman was clerk of the Supreme Court of California before coming to Ann Arbor. Merlin Wiley was Attorney General and Gaylord Bebout, Sr., Assistant Attorney General of the State. Edward D. Kinney and G. W. Sample were Circuit Court Judges and Sibley G. Taylor, Master for three years, was Circuit Court Commissioner. William D. Harriman and William Murray were Probate Judges in Washtenaw County. C. Nils Tavares has been Federal Judge in Hawaii and William C. Achi a District Judge in Hawaii. William G. Doty was Justice of the Peace. Philip N. Blum was a one-time partner of G. W. Sample.

A number of other names which appear in state and national affairs are included in our membership rolls; Samuel Beakes of the United States Senate, W. D. Harriman in the State Senate, C. A. Sink in both the State House of Representatives and Senate, and C. W. Tubbs and H. Wirt Newkirk were State Representatives. E. D. Rich in the State Health Department and Rudolph E. Reichert as State Banking Commissioner were others who acquired state-wide recognition.

From its earliest years, Fraternity Lodge has had outstanding bankers on its membership rolls and their listing together with the banks with which they have been associated also gives a picture of the mergers and other changes that have occurred in banking circles. In the old Ann Arbor Savings Bank one finds C. E. Hiscock, Walter T. Seabolt, William L. Walz, Carl Braun, R. B. Hiscock and R. E. Reichert; in the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, Herbert Williams, Fred Stowe, and R. E. Reichert; in the State Savings Bank, J. Fritz and A. Staeb; in the Ann Arbor Bank, Rudolph E. Reichert and Norman Ottmar; in the Federal Savings and Loan, William C. Walz; and in the Ann Arbor Trust Company, Homer Heath.

The Post Office has had the services of many Fraternity Lodge members: H. Prettyman, George H. Pond, and Horatio Abbott as Postmaster, E. E. Beal, Alvick A. Pearson, Gus Sodt, Oron Bury, E. Pommerening, E. W. Grosshans, and L. H. Lau as clerks and carriers.

Civic organizations have received active support from Fraternity Lodge members. Among those mentioned particularly are the Fresh Air Camp which was started by the Y.M.C.A. and kept going for many years through the activities of F. N. Menefee until the University assumed control; and the Boy Scouts whose local Executive for a number of years was Wallace Watt and whose Council and many of its committees were headed at times by H. Wagner and L. C. Anderson. The YMCA had the support of C. Wagner in both local and state levels and A. D. Parker, R. B. Howell, C. L. Brooks and T. H. Lowery were also active.

There are many industries in and near Ann Arbor where members of Fraternity Lodge have held positions as skilled tradesmen, foremen, officers and directors. Some of the companies in this category and some of the members within the group being mentioned in this story include:

the Buhr Machine Tool Company with Theodore Backhaus and Gaylord Royce; the Machine Specialty Company with Frank Royce and F. J. LaPointe; the King Seeley Corporation—now the Introl Division of the Chrysler Corporation, where John Airey was design Engineer of gasoline gauges as well as President and Chairman of the Board and R. E. Hanselman, H. F. Chang, and William F. Ealy have been employed; the Michigan Furniture Company, with C. E. Hiscock as one of the directors and W. D. Harriman as President; Barnes-Gibson-Raymond Spring Company, R. C. Hoisington, Engineer; Economy Baler Company, Gaylord Royce; Argus Company, Frank Royce, one of the founders; Detroit Edison Company, George E. Lewis; Ann Arbor Asphalt Company, R. E. Reichert; Hesse Brothers, Detroit, William J. Hutton; Ford Motor Company, H. W. Albrecht and W. R. Weible; Republic Steel Company, H. E. Schultz; Variety Tool and Die Company, Dexter, H. V. Koefoed.

When one realizes that this account mentions only a small fraction of the total membership of Fraternity Lodge over the past one hundred years, it becomes apparent that the above list of industries is also a fraction of those where Lodge members have contributed. Thus, this hypothetical city would have every reason to expect to have a low unemployment figure.

Fraternity Lodge members have taken an active role in the wars in which the United States has been involved during the past century. Starting with M. E. Cooley and Ross Granger who served in the Spanish-American conflict, through World Wars I and II, the Mexican incident, the Korean War and now the Vietnam tragedy, so many members have been involved that a separate book would need to be written to give members the credit they deserve for their activities. Veterans' organizations (Ross Granger Post of V.F.W.) and the National Guard units have also been of major interest for many brothers.

It is said that all work and no play is not a happy situation and thus while it is hoped that all our members have some time for games and other forms of recreation, a few have been mentioned as examples. Ann Arbor High School, the University of Michigan and West Park were places where some member became known for their athletic activities. Football is represented by R. B. Hiscock and F. Hutzel in High School; and Meyer Paper in the University of Michigan, and E. J. Allmendinger in Ann Arbor High School and the University of Michigan and who became an All-American football player.

Several have been cited for their baseball prowess in the West Park leagues from which two graduated to the major leagues for a time. Those who furnished opportunities for many others to take part in athletic activities include: I. William Groomes with his swimming concession at Whitmore Lake, William Saunders with his canoe livery on the Huron River, and R. B. Huston with his bowling and billiard establishment on State Street.

Thus, attempts have been made to show that the membership list of Fraternity Lodge during its first one hundred years has included people of whom "the memory lingers on!" May the next one hundred years produce an even greater and stronger representation of all that is good.

HONORARY MEMBERSHIPS

The By-Laws were amended in 1906 to provide for the granting of Honorary Membership in Fraternity Lodge. The lodge had already voted three honorary members before this. The following list of twenty-two Masons who have been honored by Fraternity Lodge over the years reveals once more the close ties between Fraternity Lodge and its sister lodges. In 1901, Fraternity Lodge brothers John Lindenschmitt and Thomas Corbett and, in 1906, Gustave Sodt were made Honorary Members of Golden Rule Lodge No. 159.

LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

The provision for Life Membership appears in the Minutes for December 4, 1925. "BE IT RESOLVED: That Fraternity Lodge No. 262, F. & A. M. by legal action and a majority vote does create and establish Life Membership in conformity with Article XVIII, Section 7 of the Regulations of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Michigan."

At that time fourteen names were proposed. A member who has been a Master Mason in good standing for forty years is eligible for this distinction. Any period during which a member was under suspension, of course, does not count. At the present time we have 107 Life Members living, and they have been specially designated in the Membership Roll.

Of these, thirty have the further distinction of wearing the Fifty-Year lapel button. They are:

ERNEST J. ALLMENDINGER
MARTIN N. ALLMENDINGER
JAMES G. CUMMING	BIRKETT F. NEWKIRK
HAROLD R. ERDMAN	HAROLD E. PARKINSON
NEWELL B. HAMILTON	GEORGE C. PHILLIPS
JAMES E. HANCOCK	ERNEST POMMERENING
GEORGE W. HEARD	RALPH A. SAVAGE
RAYMOND A. HILL	JOHN W. SCHWER
WILLIAM H. KLEIN	FREDERICK SEYFRIED
EDWARD H. KRAUS	CHARLES R. SMITH
GEORGE E. LEWIS	EDWIN G. STAEB
RAY C. HOISINGTON, P.M.	JOHN C. STERN
DANIEL W. MILLER, Jr.	HAROLD P. TROSPER

In addition to this, Fraternity Lodge is particularly honored to have six brothers who have not only received the Fifty-Year Button but are the proud recipients of the Sixty-Year Button:
